NUGGET SHOPPER SALUTES

FRANK JOSEPH PRIGLEY

Today the Nugget Shopper salutes Frank Joseph Prigley, an ex-high school football player, who has had a little hard luck in his life, and met it with the cheerful determination to come out on top.

Frank has done just that. Right now Frank's Shoe Repair, in its brand-new location at 114 Neal Street, is the newest and most modern establishment of its kind in the area.

The smartly-furnished reception room has a metropolitan air. The actual shoe-repair shop is equipped with efficient and high speed modern equipment.

Frank was born in Montana on October 4, 1916. He came to California at the age of 15, and plunged actively into the sports arena of Grass Valley High School. He played on the football and basketball teams, and achieved Eagle rank in scouting.

After high school, he worked for a short time in a cannery before he returned to Grass Valley and went to work in the Central Mine. In 1937 he married Lillian Miller of Grass Valley.

A mine mishap terminated Frank's work for a time, and when he returned again in 1941, he was again injured and quit mining for good.

Frank went to Sacramento, where he worked for United Shoe Repair. He did a good job of learning the business, and in 1942 opened his own boot repair shop in Hills Flat. There he mended the heavy footwear of the community's miners, vulcanizing torn rubber boots.

During the war, Frank tapped away at his trade at Fort Ord, for a time, and then was transferred to Camp Beale, where he was foreman of a shop that repaired 450 to 600 pairs of rugged Army shoes per day.

On April 22, 1944, he again opened his own shop, this time in the Del Oro Theatre building.

On January 8 of this year, Frank made an important contribution to the economic life of the twin cities' community—he opened his spic and span new shop on Neal Street.

Mrs. Prigley aids him in the business, and their two sturdy sons, Frank Earl, 9, and Robert Richard, age 3, are often about the shop.

Prigley is a member of the Grass Valley Lions, and Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 4.

CHAPTER FOUR

NOVEMBER 17, 1850—Pard is all right again, thank the Lord, although not able to work yet. I hired a man to rustle for some chickens and he found three after a two days' hunt. He paid $24 for them and with his horse hire and time they cost me $50, but I don't begrudge it for I made chicken broth and Pard said it went right to the spot. We have had another big storm. It rained three days steady. The grass is coming up, the hillsides are all green and it looks like spring instead of fall. While it is mighty pretty, it isn't like autumn back in old Litchfield where the sumachs and the maples are all ablaze at this time of the year. I worked in the claim alone for three days and cleaned up fourteen ounces. After dividing with Anderson, I have got over two thousand dollars on hand and will send it to dad next week. Pard says I would do better to buy land in California, but that's foolishness. The gold will all be dug out after a while, and after that I don't see what there is to stay in this country for.

NOVEMBER 24, 1850—We both worked this week and took out eighty-nine ounces. When I think

Uncle Sam Says

You don't need New Year's Day to make one resolution which will make your future more secure. In fact, this February day is as good as any day for this resolution: All you have to do is to sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan for buying Savings Bonds. Just write your John Henry once. After that, your money is invested for you every payday automatically. In just 10 years you get back $4 for every $3 invested. If you are in a business or profession and the Payroll Savings Plan is not available to you, ask for the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank.

The Diary of a 49'er

of how much money I am making it seems like a dream. I used to work for a dollar a day in haying time and our hired man on the farm gets twelve dollars a month and found. The regular miners' wages here are eight dollars a day and very few men will hire out. I sent the two thousand dollars to dad and told him to buy the farm for me, so whatever happens I will have that, but the more I think of it the less I feel like running it. I don't suppose I could make more than five hundred dollars a year off of it at the best, and then have to work four times as hard as I do here, but then this is not going to last always. We caught an Indian cleaning up our rifle box Saturday night. When the miners found out about it they insisted on his being punished and it was decided to tie him up to a tree and give him fifty lashes on the bare back. Nobody would volunteer to do the whipping, so we drew lots and Dick Stiles got the job. He used a double half-inch rope but the Indian, after the first half-dozen strokes, made such a howl that we let him go, although there was not a red mark on his back.

DECEMBER 1, 1850—Although there was nothing to show it, we observed Thursday as Thanksgiving, as that was the legal day in the States. All we did was to lay off and eat quail stew and dried apple pie. I thought a lot about the old folks and would like to have been home with them, and I guess I will be next year, although Slocum's farm doesn't seem to be as enticing

NUGGET SHOPPER RECIPES

BRAISED LAMB SHANKS, JULIENNE

6 Lamb shanks
2 Tablespoons lard or drippings
Salt and pepper to season
1 Cup carrots, cut fine
1 Cup celery, cut fine
1 Cup green beans
Water

Brown lamb shanks in lard or drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Cut vegetables in match-like pieces and place in bottom of baking dish. Add a small amount of water. Cover and cook in a slow oven 300° F. for about 1½ to 2 hours. 6 servings.

FRUIT DROP COOKIES

3 Cups sifted flour
½ Teaspoon salt
1 Cup lard
1½ Cups brown sugar
1 Teaspoon vanilla
2 Eggs
1¼ Teaspoons soda
¼ Cup warm water
1 Cup chopped dates, raisins, currants or prunes

Sift together flour and salt. Cream lard and sugar; add vanilla. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition. Dissolve soda in warm water and add. Blend nuts and fruit into flour mixture. Add. Drop by spoonsful on greased cookie sheet, and bake in a moderate oven 375° F. for 10 minutes. Yield: 6 dozen cookies.

HAM SLICES WITH FRUIT STUFFING

2 Ham slices
Fruit stuffing

Have ham slices cut 3-8 to ½ inch thick. Spread one slice with a thick layer of stuffing. Place a second ham slice on top. Secure by sticking wooden picks through one slice to the other. Spread surface of top ham slice with brown sugar or honey. Place on rack in open roasting pan. Roast in a slow oven 300° F. for 1¼ hours. Garnish with orange slices. Serves 6.

Fruit Stuffing

3 Cups soft bread crumbs
1 Cup diced apples
½ Cup seedless raisins
2-3 Cup orange juice
¼ Cup melted ham or bacon drippings
4 tablespoons sugar

Combine all ingredients. Mix lightly.

BRAISED SHORT RIBS

3 Pounds short ribs of beef
2 Tablespoons lard or drippings
2 Tablespoons salt
¾ Teaspoon pepper
1 Cup water

Brown short ribs in lard or drippings. Season. Add water, cover and allow to simmer 1½ to 2 hours. Add more water, if necessary. 4 to 6 servings
